Lithium-ion batteries can be found in electric bikes and scooters, cordless power tools, lawncare equipment, cell phones, laptops, tablets, wireless headphones, toys, and more.

There are many drop-off options locally, look on Call2Recycle.org to find a list of businesses and facilities.

MEMORIAL DONATIONS

The library would like to thank the family of Butch Gibson for choosing the library as a recipient of memorial donations in his honor. Friends and family spoke of his love of reading and the family's ties with the library. We sincerely appreciate the generous donations we received which will support our library's programs and services.
